

Heard At School

As executive editor of the C. H. S. Commentator it is my pleasant duty to make this last issue of the column Heard At School a medium of thanks to those who made it possible.

First on behalf of the student body and our teaching staff R. I. Baker, Miss E. Schultz, and S. T. Lindstead sincere thanks are extended to Mr. McRae for his kind contribution of space in his paper.

Second president Jas. Brown of the students Union expresses the official thanks of that body for the service accorded the school.

Finally on behalf no one but myself I wish to thank the weekly trios who always came through with the goods Tuesday noon despite Mondays protest of not knowing a thing. Also to Margaret Fath editor 10.11 and Maxine Ditto editor 9.12 my congratulations to you and your editorial and printing staff for issues of Commentator.

JOCK'S WAGGIN' TONGUE

Vol. 3 Thurs. June 22 1939. No. 21
Jock McIntyre, Editor

Mr. Hugh Parker the Secy. of Carmangay Stampede was in town the other day and says that the Stampede is going to be the best yet by a long way. So don't forget the date Wednesday June 26 we'll be seeing you there. Hugh says he expects a traffic jam at least equal to the one at Lethbridge but assures us it will be better handled.

We are pleased to announce an entirely new Radio set developed by Westinghouse. It's a tube superheterodyne 110 volt A.C. or D.C. set about the size of your alarm clock but it has a real wallop. We have it on display. Price! why it's so cheap it's hardly worth mentioning.

We have been told that there is either to be a wedding or a breach of promise suit coming up soon at Carmangay. For particulars enquire of Joe McKie Geo. Dupre is again writing hall insurance for the Alberta Hall Insurance Board. He says he would like to explain their policy to you which is purely a mutual policy that has been proven to be very reasonable insurance that a few dollars cash will give you coverage.

Helen Higgins is home on her summer holidays she says that it is good to be back home and in Alta again.

Cory Glass Coffee brewers for a real cup of Coffee, the new designs are much improved.

Jack Doyle and Fred Clever is contemplating starting opposition to Ervie Fisher in the water business.

Wonder scrub mops keep you off your knees they are a real mop. Just arrived a shipment of Medalta Crockery including sizes of crocks, flour pots, Bean pots etc.

Has anyone near Carmangay found any false teeth lately? If so please notify Andy Lawrence.

Say if you folks don't know the best place to buy your hardware you should ask McIntyre & Company at Champion.

Grand Old Lady Is Honored

Mrs. F. C. Alcock Celebrated 75 th Birthday Sunday

On Saturday friends of Mrs. F. C. Alcock visited her home to extend congratulations upon attaining her 75 birthday Sunday. Still active in mind and body Mrs. Alcock received her unexpected guests with her usual charm of personality. She was recipient of beautiful gifts none more appreciated than a birthday cake upon which were lighted candles.

Mrs. Alcock is one of the old timers of this district, having come here in 1909. To her first years in this country cling many happy memories for her home was the centre of hospitality and friendliness for many who came in succeeding years. Later in company with Mr. Alcock and her family moved to Champion where she was active in many organizations.

Mrs. Alcock was keenly interested in the work of the Women's Institute of which she was district director for 4 years and and constituency convener for 5 years. She recalled that during her tenure of office she never missed a meeting and prizes the gifts given to her by the district and provincial office in recognition of her work.

Born in England in the land of Robin Hood it may be only a coincidence that one of her traits of character is to be generous with the faults of others and thoughtful of the less fortunate. Coming from a musical family she is fond of music and the Anglican church.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Reason for running personal items on the back page is so that local merchants who advertise may have preferred local reading beside their ads.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ferguson had as guests last week Mrs. Ferguson's sisters, Mrs. Larsen, of Thiel Falls, Mrs. J. A. Hilden, of Oslo, Mrs. B. R. Dow, of Oslo and one brother Ray Robinson of Minneapolis and nephew Chas. Dow Williston. They all returned by motor and Mrs. Ferguson accompanied them to Shelby.

Municipal Buildings Officially Opened By The Honorable P. Dawson

Ceremony Witnessed By Representatives From Surrounding Municipalities

In the presence of ratepayers from all sections of the Municipal District of Harmony Hon. Peter Dawson officially opened the new municipal building on Main Street Thursday afternoon turning over the key to Reeve E. Griffin who has been the guiding star of the enterprise. Following the remarks of the Hon. Mr. Dawson and inspection of the building adjournment was taken to the Community Hall where further addresses were given by prominent men.

Hon. Mr. Dawson congratulated the Council upon their enterprise which would house the local government.

The speaker stressed the importance of Municipal government and asked that the people co-operate with the local and other governments the result of which would be a benefit to all.

BARONS

Iona Turner has returned home after spending some time in Edmonton with friends.

The students in Grades X & XI have 40 percent on their years work, with 60 percent on their final examination. These marks will be totaled to give them their final mark.

Dated this twentieth day of June 1939
Ulysses S. Alexander
Secretary-Treasurer.

TEACHER RESIGNS

Young people of the high school and the public generally will be surprised to learn of the resignation of S. T. Lindstedt who for the past three years has been assistant principal. A meeting of the school Board will be held Friday to make arrangements for engagement of teachers.

Mr. Lindstedt has been very popular with the student body and active in sport. He was president of the dramatic club and the Presbytery Union United church young people.

LEGISLATION

When the present administration took over the reins of government insurance in force on government buildings was $7,778,050. This amount was covered by 1,235 policies of which 80 percent were held by American companies. Under the new set up, there are now only 59 policies and these are held by Lloyds of London.

Premium cost for the old policies was $145,881.91 on three years. Premium cost for new policies is $55,042.37 on three years thus saving the taxpayers $90,839.54 on the three years or $30,279.66 per year.

High lights of the bill
Provision is made in the act to enable the Government to authorize agents of existing companies and others to act as agents for the governments insurance office, whose minister will be the Provincial secretary.

Appointments to positions in or connected with the insurance office will be made by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council and where after all employees will be under the control of the minister.

The act provides that every department of the government and every city, town, village, and municipal district shall furnish all information required in the minimizing of fire risk.

It provides that all payments of the insurance office shall be made by cheque or transfer voucher; the Provincial treasurer shall advance from the general revenue fund, such sums that are from time to time required for financing the said business.

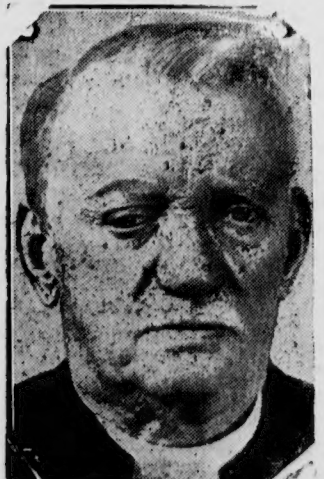

The act provides for the transfer to the General Revenue fund of cash surpluses not required for the financing of such business.

This act came into force April 3rd 1939.

Investments revealed that for 1935 36-37 fire insurance companies operating in Alberta paid in loss claims only 34.17 percent of the money actually received in premiums. This gave the companies a gross profit of 65.83 percent. New Zealand operation's cost 13.52 percent based on a five year period. Allowing this percentage for operations in Alberta a three years average profit accruing to the various companies would be 22.32 percent.

Profits drawn out of Alberta Fire Insurance go back to the people.

Did you receive a 25 percent discount on your premium this year from the Line Company on your fire insurance? This is direct result of the Alberta Insurance.

Beauties of Nature

Strolling around the streets of Champion Sunday afternoon we noticed the artistic manner in which the residential property is laid out for shrubbery and lowering plants. The rains of the past month have of course brought out the beauties of these plants but the owners are to be congratulated on their efforts.

There is nothing so appealing as the beautiful flowers and shade trees. While Champion is not situated in a wooded area much can be done to cultivate the trees we were impressed with the results which some have obtained. It adds beauty not only to the immediate surroundings but to the whole town.

As one travels from town to town particularly in the east one of the first things which attracts your attention is the general appearance of the homes. Are they well kept and beautified with flowers. Some of the most humble homes make the largest structure look poorly just because the owner of the smaller home had the ability to make the most of his surroundings.

Those who have not yet attempted growing tree and flowers should take courage at the rain fall this year and plan to follow the lead of others by laying out their premises with trees, to be supplied free by the village council.

Support the Stampede

Next week the Carmangay Stampede will be held and we urge all residents of this area to support same by attendance. There will be plenty of excitement and fun.

A large number attended the Lethbridge Air Show and enjoyed same and we speak for support of this purely local enterprise. Turn out and lend your help to the local committee.

Troubles of an Editor

Considerable publicity has been given to the change in our educational system but little has been said about the press and perhaps even greater changes have taken place in that business than in general merchandising.

One of the problems which confront the editor is free publicity or free advertising. It used to be that the editor craved for items to fill up his pages but it is no exaggeration to say that each week the Champion Chronicle receives sufficient material for a ten to fifteen page paper. This material comes from governmental departments, all with information to the public then there are news letters from commercial houses which use our paper for advertising and last but not least there are scores of weekly letters setting forth facts about the best way to do this or that.

Advertising is the life blood of this and every newspaper and it is the function of the editor to see that there is a fair balance between news and advertising if his enterprise is to survive.

It is a difficult task that he faces, then, if he endeavors to restrict free use of his paper for notices placing them in the paid class. But he along with other publishers have to face it fearlessly as a business proposition. Is it better to give away your papers or have a paid up list, take up the space with free notices and information supplied which is advertising in a roundabout way or operate the business so that you can pay one hundred cents on the dollar on all your accounts. The merchant who used to give away the bag of candy has long since ceased to give away his goods but the publishers have hesitated to restrict their local "gifts".

The local editor is doing his utmost to keep the ship this business, on an even keel and must steer his course in such a channel that he can pay the expenses of his plant. Those who might not see eye to eye with him should at least give him the benefit of using his best judgement, unless they wish to assume the responsibility for financing the undertaking.

We are very much encouraged by support accorded by local and national advertisers and trust that the continuance of same will mean further improvements in the service to the district we serve.

At the same time we might also suggest that our local readers co operate by sending in items of personal interest. We have had very fine co operation from Carmangay and Barons and while we do appreciate the local efforts still further help could be given by the general public. Remember something well known here may be of interest to some far away reader.

STANDARDS OF EDUCATION

In last week's article we spoke of the old system and gave you a picture of conditions resulting from such a system. This week we shall try and tell you something of the progress that has been made under the larger school unit.

In 1936 eleven large school units comprising 744 rural school districts were organized and in 1937 eleven more came into being. Now forty four such divisions are doing business of what was formerly 3104 district. In the province there are still 368 rural school districts not in the larger division. Gradually these consolidated school districts are falling in line with these divisions.

The Board of the larger unit consists of 5 members elected by the ratepayers, these members transact the business of the 70 or 80 schools in each division. The old local district retained their school property and keep a watchful eye on the children of their particular districts.

The divisional board take over all assets and liabilities of the old school districts and finance all the schools of the division with the funds obtained from government grants and

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTTY

Educational Standards continue the monies available from a uniform tax levy over the entire division the latter money being obtained by requisition from either the municipalities or dept. of municipal Affairs.

The board meet monthly members receive a maximum of 8 cents a mile for transportation and $5. maintenance allowance The school inspector acts as a technical advisor to the Board

Many who strongly opposed the large unit when it was introduced are now endorsing it We have only to look at the effects of reorganization to see the benefits derived therefrom Children in the rural schools of this province have not had the opportunity equal to those of town and city children therefore through the large unit educational opportunities are being equalized. Better education is more available to more pupils

Reorganization means the consolidation of schools involving buildings closing of schools where the attendance is small and transporting pupils to new by larger schools where better service is given economically

In 1938 22 div. spent $33,920. in transportation and van service Length of school attendance increased from 5 to 15 days per division. Libraries are being provided for all appropriation of from $ 200 to $ 300. 44 boards expect to spend 1939 $35,000 on books Many books are being reconditioned 100 to 200 new book will be given to individual schools

At several rural centres general shop home economics dramatic music courses are being offered and many towns and villages are co operating. Medical services are being introduced and in many schools music instructors are being employed

More next week on larger unit.

To my many Friends in Champion and district

You are aware that we have organized an oil company in Barons, called the Keho Dome Oil Co., to drill for oil on a promising structure twelve miles S. E. of Barons.

Before organizing this company we had three of Alberta's best Geologists go over this structure. The company is organized along co operative lines for the benefit of every investor. Here are some facts of interest.

The company owns 1164 acres sufficient for around 30 wells. Every share holder shares in the earnings of every well drilled.

The Co. has only 250,000 shares to sell not millions, a large amount of this stock is now sold and we are slowly getting financed.

All money received from sale of stock must be paid to the Prudential Trust Co., Calgary.

Estimated drilling depth around 3900 ft. drilling time estimated three months.

No drilling will be attempted until practically sufficient money is in the treasury to drill 4,000 ft.

When we get production, 50% of all net returns must be paid in dividends. There will be no highly paid officials in this company, and it is estimated that practically around 40 percent of production will be paid in dividends to share holders.

We have several attractive bids for oil at the well site so that our market is practically assured.

The officers of this company propose to pay the biggest possible dividends, in the quickest possible time when production is reached. We want to make the company's stock worth real money.

The officers of this company have not taken any free stock for themselves for organizing the company, they pay for their stock in cash like other shareholders.

Shares are selling at 25c. We have just a small amount now to be sold there will be no more stock to sell at any price and we want to notify Shareholders as often as possible of the company's developments.

We invite you to come in with us for some stock any amount from $25 up will be accepted unless stock is over subscribed before we receive your application.

Stock can be paid for after or during harvest. Do not pass up this opportunity to invest in a real company just drop into the Chronicle Office as quickly as possible and tell the editor how much stock we should hold for you, and he will notify me.

Watch Keho Dome,

Yours for success,
